

SAINT THOMAS ACADEMY CADETS RECEIVE MILITARY ACADEMY APPOINTMENTS

MENDOTA HEIGHTS, Minn., May 13, 2009 – Saint Thomas Academy announced today that several senior cadets have received appointments to United States military academies.

J. Lamey has received an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. Lamey also has options to attend the University of St. Thomas, the University of California-San Diego or Santa Clara University on ROTC scholarships.

K. McMullen will attend the U.S. Military Academy in West Point, N.Y.

W. Stensland has received an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis. He also received an ROTC scholarship to attend Holy Cross.

S. Johnson has received an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis.

“Receiving an appointment to a military academy is a prestigious honor,” said Commandant of Cadets Lt. Col. Michael DePuglio (ret.), U.S. Army. “These cadets have worked exceptionally hard while at Saint Thomas Academy to be accepted for admission. They will graduate from Saint Thomas Academy well prepared to be a military leader of tomorrow.”

To be considered for admission to a military academy, candidates must be qualified academically, medically, and physically, and must receive a nomination from an approved source, such as a member of Congress.
